

Reformed Gas

ASTM D1946-90

This method analyzes permanent gases, methane ethane and ethylene. Permanent gases are separated on a Molecular Sieve column and the remainder of the components including carbon dioxide are backflushed to a second column.